culation in the District.

On next Tuesday Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New York and Wisconsin will elect State officers and members of their State legislatures.

WE predicted Fair weather for yesterday, whether the weather was to be fair weather or not. And it now turns out to have been a Fair prediction.

BEN BUTLER has got mad, and is raging around Massachusetts like madness itself. He will cool off and subside one week from tion remains to be settled. THE founder of Chicago, it is now discovered, was an Ohio man, Colonel J. S. SWEARINGEN. This fact cannot possibly injure Chicago, but it will give the St. Louis people a chance for flings at Ohio.

Roursson sticks and KELLY sticks-o dentist could not draw either of them from the jaw of the occasion. The dance goes on furnish occasion for profound rejoicing with

A MAN named R. G. HUDSON has deliberately attempted suicide in Yazoo, Miss., through the always efficacions method of an old family feud." He has announced himself as an independent candidate for the legislature in that county.

TILDEN and ROBINSON almost wish JOHN KELLY would turn gronaut. As it is, he is simply a kite-fiver as it were, and is preparing to send the New York Democracy skyward, higher than the kite of the late Mr. GILDEROY ever thought of going. And meanwhile he proposes to remain on terra firma himself.

THE Graphic sees through the very wide aperture in the New York political millstone so clearly that it feels called upon to announce that the Tribune " is the only "thick and thin Republican organ in that The Times is rated in this accurate survey as among the TILDEN-ROBINSON organs. Correct!

THE Graphic has a very clever cartoon relating to the "go-as-you-please" political race in New York next Tuesday. It represents the three candidates having their this, through the unconquerable energy and boots blacked for the race. TILDEN is enterprise of the managers of the exposishining up Robinson, Conkling is rub- tion, has been achieved in a wonderful bing away at CORNELL, while KELLY is degree. sweating away at his own brogans.

THE projected injection of leading Republican speakers into the campaign in Louisiana, after the November elections in the North shall have passed, strikes the Opposition press as a "novel expedient." Perhaps it is a novelty that Northern Repub-Beans should betray especial interest in a Southern State campaign before the elcotion; but it will be remembered that they were devotedly absorbed in the result in Louisiana after the last election. And it happens that the pending contest in that State will settle the electoral vote thereof for '80-'81.

As they see the shadow of coming events, the Democrats evince an uneasy desire to strip the President of his Constitutional powers as Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the Nation. Their fright makes them absolutely silly. A recent proposition has been made in a very obscure quarter, however, to Congress to overinrn the Constitution, create a Genof power stripped from the Chief Magistrate, and thus revolutionize the Government by act of Congress. A careful perusal of the its shallow lodgment.

BEN HILL'S endeavors, futile as they Capital. were, to heal the differences existing between the KELLY and ROBINSON factions of the New York Democracy were essayed in earnest for the sole and express purpose of securing partisan success to the truly sectional Democracy. If the same endeavor had been made last Congress, or at any time since the close of the war, by Mr. HILL and his fellow-Bourbon leaders of the South to heal the sectional differences between the North and South, regardless of partisan success, the effort would not have been futile. But as the matter now stands, Mr. Hrist appears in his true light as a purely partisan manipulator, whose interest in Northern politics is confined to the advancement of the Confederate Democracy. And he is a sad failure, at that !

WHEN the Post makes reference to the Hon. Honack Maynann, our Minister resident at Constantinople, in terms which inply a distrust of that gentleman's educational acquirements, it only furnishes fresh evidence of its own ignorance. A long string of wagons, so to speak, interspersed here and there with an omnibus carrying a brass band, attracted general attention and elicited much comment as an illustration of the varied and multifarious business resources of our active commercial in New York to the end, and the result will display was entirely satisfactory; but, with the few exceptions noted, there were no attempts at decorative exhibits and a disappointing absence of illustrative devices of every National Presidential convention. But a few weeks ago the territory dedicated to exposition purposes was farm lands comprising a picturesque variety of hill and dale, of cultivated fields and pasture land, surrounded by a rude fence and un adorned by an edifice of the least architectural beauty to adorn the locality. Now it contains within a fine fence inclosure an Exposition Hall of large dimensions and fine architectural design and execution, a large and ornate Machinery and Agricultural Hall, an Art Gallery of liberal dimensions and appropriate architecture, a spacious and beautiful Club-House, large and commodious stables for the exhibition of stock. a large number of stables connected with the race course, and a race track of one mile, the finest on the Continent; and all this has sprung into existence within a few weeks under the magic touch of Washington spirit and enterprise. Our city has cause to be proud of this sudden addition to its adjacent attractions, and especially should it feel an honorable pride in this remarkable display of the energy and eneral-in-Chief, and clothe him in the drapery terprise of its citizeus who have achieved so much within a brief period of time. THE MANAGEMENT OF THE INDIANS. The late difficulty with the Indian triber of the West and what is generally regarded as a bungling of the matter by our Indian department will greatly tend to a public desire for a change in the management of the Indian problem. Whether to transfer the Indian department from the Interior to the War Department will bring genuine reform the experiment alone can solve. It may be better. It certainly is in no danger o being much worse. The blunders of the past will furnish a great incentive to change, and we may expect to see a strong effort in the next session of Congress to effect a trans fer of the Indian interest to the War De pariment in the future, and the history o the late Indian troubles will afford strong arguments in favor of the change. There are reasons, perhaps, why the change should and why it should not be made, but there is no good reason why radical and essential reforms should not be introduced into our Indian policy. We must learn and practice several reforms. The first is to keep faith with our Indian treatles if we adhere to the policy of treating with the Indians. which is of doubtful wisdom and propriety.

GEO.T. KEEN TAILOR,

COMFORT FOR THE FEET.

414 Ninth Street.

All who would have feet free from corns dress the feet with a view to health, good taste, and comfort. Shoes made on my lasts modeled from nature-an essentially different style-and latest improvements. They press the foot evenly, giving elasticity to walking, and by the ingenuity of their construction they appear smaller than they really are, giving an elegant appearance even to the largest and clumsiest feet.
